What Is Pregabalin and Why Is It Prescribed?

Pregabalin is a prescription medication commonly used to treat several neurological and pain-related conditions. It works by calming overactive nerve signals in the brain and spinal cord.

Doctors may prescribe pregabalin for:

- Neuropathic (nerve) pain
- Fibromyalgia
- Partial seizures in epilepsy
- Spinal cord injury–related nerve pain
- Generalized anxiety disorder (in some regions)

Because it affects the nervous system, pregabalin should always be taken under medical supervision. Legitimate online pharmacies require either a valid prescription or a telehealth consultation before dispensing the medication.
